[SUB-AGENT 03] WarrantyRetriever KB:
I apologize, but I couldn't find any relevant information about return policies for premium customers in the warranty policy knowledge base. The system did not return any matching documents for:
- Return policy for premium customers
- Premium customer benefits
- General return policy
This could mean that:
1. The warranty policy knowledge base doesn't contain return policy information
2. Return policies may be documented separately from warranty policies
3. There may not be specific premium customer return policies in the current database
If you're looking for return policy information, you may need to:
- Check a separate returns/refunds policy document
- Contact customer service directly
- Specify if you're looking for warranty-related returns specifically
- Is there anything else related to warranty policies I can help you search for?
Based on my search across all three policy knowledge bases (Returns, Shipping, and Warranty), I was unable to find specific information about return policies for premium customers.
This suggests a few possibilities:
1. The return policy may be uniform - All customers, including premium members, may follow the same return policy regardless of membership tier
2. Premium benefits may not include special return terms - Premium status might offer other benefits (like faster shipping or extended warranties) but not different return conditions
3. The information may not be in the current knowledge base - This specific detail might be documented elsewhere
What I recommend:
- If you'd like, I can search for the general return policy that applies to all customers, which would also apply to premium customers
- You may want to contact customer service directly to confirm if premium membership includes any special return privileges
- Check your premium membership benefits documentation for a complete list of perks

Hello,
Thank you for your inquiry about the return policy for premium customers.
I've searched our policy documentation, and while I wasn't able to locate specific return policy details that are unique to premium members, this could mean a few things:
Possible Scenarios:
- Our return policy may be consistent across all customer tiers, with premium members enjoying the same generous terms as all our customers
- Premium membership benefits might focus on other perks such as expedited shipping, exclusive offers, or extended warranty coverage rather than different return conditions
- Tier-specific return benefits may be outlined in your premium membership welcome materials
How I Can Help:
I'd be happy to provide you with information about our general return policy that applies to all customers (including premium members). This would give you a complete understanding of:
- Return timeframes
- Eligible items
